SOVIET BREAK
WITH AMERICA
NOT EXPECTEDRUSSIAN CAMPAIGN
AGAINST U. S. MAY BE HALTED SOON

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Oct. 13 (P)—The Russian campaign against the Marshall plan, top American officials now predict that the Soviet Union will stop short of a final breakdown of relations with this country any time soon.

This estimate, it was learned from official sources, is entering into basic planning now being undertaken for the big four foreign ministers meeting Nov. 25 at London and German and Austrian peace settlements. It also figures in development of American policies in the current United Nations meeting at New York.

The view is that Russia will campaign to the limit against the United States on great world issues but will not at this point be willing to wreck any important piece of machinery for international negotiation.

This opinion is understood to have been presented to state, defense and other policy-making officials by two American leaders abroad who returned to Washington a few days ago. They are Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, American envoy to Moscow, and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American commander in Germany.

Smith is due to confer this week with Secretary of State Marshall, who is leading the American delegation to the U. N. assembly sessions in New York.

France Goes Broke
The week will bring major developments on at least three sectors of the economic front, all involving to some extent the central problem of the Russian-American controversies. These developments are:

1. A top level conference was scheduled to open today between a committee representing the 16 nations which at Paris recently planned a European recovery program under the long range Marshall plan and members of President Truman's inter-departmental committee on the plan.

The Europeans are captained by Sir Oliver Franks of Britain and the Americans by Undersecretary of State Lovett.

The 16 nations want $19,330,000,000 in American financial help.

Flash Fire Fatal
To Young Mother
And Six Children

Mount Union, Pa., Oct. 13 (P)—A 29-year-old woman and six of her nine children were killed as a flash fire swept through their home farmstead near here.

Coroner James J. B. Shore identified the mother as Mrs. Alberta Ruby and the children as Rose, nine; Richard, seven; Janice, five; Patsy, three; Kenneth, one, and Linda, five months.

Shore said the children all perished in the charred wreckage of their home—the youngest as she slept in her crib on the first floor—while Mrs. Ruby died several hours after the fire Saturday night.

The blaze apparently started, Shore said, as Mrs. Ruby was attempting to start a kitchen stove and a can of kerosene was overturned.

Three children—Alberta, 12, Dorothy, 10, and Salina, eight—managed to escape by fleeing the house. The father was at work at the time, Shore said.

Marshall Invited
To CIO Convention,
Rap At Communists

BY MAX HALL
Boston, Oct. 13 (P)—The CIO convention took on world importance today as it opened with Secretary of State Marshall the hottest topic for the 600 or more delegates.

In the midst of an international crisis, the CIO leadership invited Marshall to Boston. He accepted yesterday and will speak Wednesday.

On all sides here, this is being interpreted as a slap by the CIO at the Communists—within the CIO and elsewhere—who have been attacking Marshall and American motives in helping Europe.

Further, leaders in the CIO's right-wing majority are convinced that the invitation, its acceptance and the speech itself should have an important effect on European workers and increase the U. S. government's prestige in labor circles abroad.

According to this view, many European workers will be impressed by the fact that the CIO is friendly to Marshall, who is being denounced in pro-Soviet propaganda.

It will be Marshall's first speech before a labor convention.

The CIO leaders declined to comment publicly. President Philip Murray said only that he is "delighted" that Marshall will speak.

The international situation has captured top billing at this convention but there are other matters.

For example:

1. Murray in his annual report said America and the world need "production, production, more production," and he proposed a system of labor-management teamwork to bring it about.

2. Two more CIO unions—The Amalgamated Clothing Workers and the Shipbuilding Workers—decided to file non-Communist affidavits in order to qualify for the protection of the National Labor Relations Board.

This is the ninth convention of the Congress of Industrial Organizations. The CIO has 41 unions. As for membership, no definite figure was given before the convention opened. Some officials have been saying "something over 6,000,000," while other claim about 6,900,000.

Murray, 61-years-old, is virtually certain to be re-elected unanimously and begin his eighth year as president.

SYRIANS CAMP
OF HOLY LANDTROOPS READY TO TAKE OVER WHEN BRITISH LEAVE

BY EDWARD CURTIS
Jerusalem, Oct. 13 (P)—Jewish sources reported that well-equipped Syrian troops were encamped near the Palestine border today, opposite an area dotted with Jewish agricultural settlements.

British officials were not immediately able to confirm the reports, but one British spokesman said that if true the troop movement probably represented the "first step on the part of the Arab states to show they will fill the vacuum and take over the Holy Land when the British move out."

The British, who govern Palestine under a League of Nations mandate, have announced that they will withdraw from the Holy Land if the United Nations fails to find a solution to the problem acceptable to both Arabs and Jews.

Terrorists Watched
The Arab League, meeting in Beirut, announced last week that it had agreed to cordon off what it described as "terrorist organizations and Zionist forces" in Palestine by moving troops from the Arab countries up to the Holy Land's frontiers.

(A Beirut dispatch quoted a civil attaché of the Lebanese war ministry as saying that two companies of Lebanese troops were moved near the Syrian-Palestine frontier Thursday for maneuvers. At the same time a dispatch from Cairo quoted a spokesman for the Muslim Brotherhood as saying that the vanguard of a Brotherhood army of 10,000 men had reached Rafa, a Mediterranean port on the Egyptian-Palestine border.)

Jewish informants did not estimate the number of Syrian troops reportedly deployed along the frontier, but said they were well-equipped with armor and other heavy weapons. They quoted Jewish settlers in the frontier areas as saying the troops were encamped near the Syrian villages of Kuneitra and Banis, just north of the point where a finger of Palestine juts into Syria and Lebanon.

Syrian patrols were reported to have passed "quite close" to the Palestine border and Jewish settlements were said to have been alerted while observers were posted to keep watch on the Syrians.

Freighter Damaged
By Pacific Typhoon;
New Blow Builds Up

Tokyo, Oct. 13 (P)—The storm damaged American freighter Louis Sloss pushed along toward Okinawa at five knots under escort today as U. S. Navy officials reported a new typhoon building up in the Pacific 200 miles south-east of Guam.

The Louis Sloss, mauled by the typhoon given the code name "Rosalind" northwest of Iwo Jima was being attended by the Army transport General Collins.

Navy said the freighter should make port safely unless it runs into rough seas. The Sloss was hard hit by 75-mile winds and big seas, and first reports had indicated her crew feared she was breaking up.

FAMILY PLANE CRASHES
Lapeer (P)—A father, his son and daughter escaped with minor cuts and bruises Sunday when their light plane crashed on Lake George Road near Attica, Arthur Placeway, 45, and his daughter, Catherine, 8, were treated at Lapeer City Hospital. His son, Carlton, 15, was taken to Bishop Hospital in Almont. The plane was badly damaged.

DETROIT POLICE CHECK
Story Of Employee
At Golf Course

Detroit, Oct. 13 (P)—Police today were checking evidence that might provide an alibi for George Izak, 25-year-old caddy-master being questioned in the death of Gene Paul Kennedy, 13.

The skeleton of the boy, who disappeared Aug. 23 after caddying all day at the Western Golf Club, was found last Thursday in a patch of brush at six mile and Beck roads.

Officers said they had a report that Izak had been at a falling station until after the time when a witness said he picked the boy up in his car the night of Aug. 23.

Young Kennedy disappeared after he left the car of William Brown, the Golf Club's professional. Brown told police he continued on with Izak and another caddy and let Izak out a mile and a half further on to pick up his own automobile at a gas station.

Mrs. Laura Hunn, a tavern operator, had reported that a boy resembling Gene came into her tavern, then went outside and got into a car shortly after 8 o'clock that evening. But homicide detectives said records of the station where Izak left his car show he did not take the auto away until after 9 p. m.

While police checked time elements in the various accounts, tests were being made for bloodstains on the cushions of Izak's car. An autopsy has failed to disclose cause of the boy's death.

Izak has been held for investigation of murder since Friday night after police said they found discrepancies in the caddy-master's account of his movements the night Gene disappeared.

High Court Upholds
Bribery Conviction
Of Carl F. Delano

Lansing, Oct. 13 (P)—The state supreme court today unanimously upheld the conviction of former Senator Carl F. Delano of Kalamazoo and Dr. Minkel Sherman of Detroit, former president of the American Naturopathic Association of Michigan on charges of corrupting the legislature by bribery.

Associate Justice Neil E. Reid contended that allowances for board and room for legislators would be a "perquisite of office" and therefore is prohibited by the constitution.

The constitution allows lawmakers three dollars a day in salary, travelling expenses to and from a session and certain specified books and materials and forbids other "perquisites."

The legislature's action in voting the expense accounts was recommended by Governor Sigler who asserted his experiences as a special prosecutor of the Ingham county grand jury indicated that the law-maker's low salary was a temptation to accept bribes.

Black had contended the expense accounts were constitutional. The expense accounts were to be paid legislators any time they were away from their home districts on official business.

Leaders Of AFL Push
Tax To Raise Million
For Public Relations

BY HAROLD W. WARD
San Francisco, Oct. 13 (P)—The AFL leadership got behind a proposal today to collect a million dollars more annually from member unions to finance a far-flung "educational and public relations program."

An increase in the per capita tax on the AFL's 7,600,000 members to three cents apiece was recommended by the 15-man executive council and will be acted on by the convention before it adjourns Thursday night. The tax now is two cents a member for the first 200,000 members in a union, and one and one-half cents per member in excess of that number in the bigger unions.

The funds thus raised would supplement special contributions and expenditures in next year's presidential election campaign. That will be different, the AFL's official spokesman said. Earlier, the council announced it was recommending creation of "labor's educational and political league" which appeared to be closely similar to the CIO's political action committee both in organization and objectives.

AFL President William Green said the AFL would not endorse a party as such, but left the way open for formal backing of a presidential candidate under certain circumstances.

For example, the federation at the present time is openly hostile to Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) for his part in enactment of the Taft-Hartley labor law, which the labor group is fighting. Should Taft win the Republican nomination for president, therefore, he might face the outright opposition of the "educational and political league."

Only once has the AFL actually endorsed a candidate for president, one official said. That candidate was the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette, sr., in 1924.

Endorsement by the AFL of presidential aspirants has been difficult in the past, as it would be in the future, because of the political differences between members of the policy-making executive council. Daniel J. Tobin of the teamsters has been an outspoken supporter of the Roosevelt new deal, while William L. Hutchison of the carpenters has been equally loyal to the Republican party.

Taft-Reuther Team
Labeled 'Fantastic'
By UAW President

Detroit, Oct. 13 (P)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO United Auto Workers, today labeled "fantastic" a report by radio commentator Drew Pearson that the union leader was a possible running mate of Senator Robert A. Taft in the 1948 presidential election.

Pearson, in his broadcast last night, mentioned the possibility of Reuther's teaming with the Ohio Republican.

Reuther declared that "this fantastic story" had been "planted by the newly hired publicity agent of George F. Addes and R. J. Thomas in an effort to influence UAW delegate elections now in progress."

Thomas and Richard T. Leonard, UAW vice presidents, and Addes, secretary-treasurer of the union, recently hired Harry Barnard of Chicago to handle their press relations in a campaign to defeat Reuther as UAW president.

Barnard made no comment on Reuther's statement. Senator Taft also declined comment at his Cincinnati home.

Reuther declared, "I am unalterably opposed to Senator Taft and everything that he and his NAM-Wall Street masters represent in American life. I am determined to do everything in my power to defeat Senator Taft, no matter what public office he may seek in 1948."

Fields Under Water
Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo called the hurricane the greatest farm disaster in more than a generation. Tons of water poured down upon the Everglades, where many fields and grazing lands already were covered.

He estimated the multi-million dollar farm damage after receiving reports throughout the area.

Thousands of residents sought refuge in schools and other public buildings as hundreds of homes were flooded and mass evacuations were carried out. Highways were under water and transportation facilities were crippled.

At Fort Lauderdale the Red Cross added 1,800 flood victims to its list and about 1,000 persons were moved to the Pompano State Farmers Market from the Pompano Beach Migratory Workers Camp and nearby Hammondville.

Torrential rains turned thousands of lowland acres, already sodden by two previous storms and almost daily rains for nearly a month, into virtual lakes.

Dry Ice Sprinkled
Three Air Forces planes headed for the Atlantic ocean today to experiment in spraying dry ice on the storm clouds.

A B-29 carrying observers was piloted by 1st Lt. J. A. Ashcraft, Capt. J. E. Williams and Capt. C. N. Chamberlain were at the controls of two B-17's carrying 1,000 pounds of dry ice.

The planes took off from MacDill Field Army Air Base at Tampa at 8:15 a. m. (EST.) in perfect flying weather. They were expected back about 5 p. m.

At 10:15 a. m. (EST.) the weather bureau said the storm was centered about 300 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras and moving in a northeasterly direction about 25 miles an hour.

Winds near the center were estimated at 50 to 60 miles

Tackle Delta's Finance Problem; Seek Help Of Cities And Townships

Facing budget troubles that will leave it with an estimated $36,000 deficit at the end of 1948, the Delta county board of supervisors in meeting today heard a proposal that cities and townships in the county come to the aid of the county to help finance the operation of the county welfare department.

It was proposed that $51,055.50 be appropriated by the cities of Escanaba, Gladstone and the 14 townships to meet an anticipated shortage in welfare funds next spring. The proposal was made by representatives of the state welfare commission.

Each city council or commission and township board would be asked to cooperate in the welfare financing plan by making an appropriation of $1.50 per capita to achieve the $51,055.50 total. The appropriation would represent one-sixth of the sales tax funds (new revenue for the cities and townships) received by them during the year.

Need Is Cited
Attention of the board was directed to the serious financial condition of the state welfare commission by Miss Viola M. Olson, Marquette, area representative for the eastern district of the U. P.; and A. M. Gilbert, director of the Delta county social welfare department.

They reported that the state welfare department's funds may be insufficient to meet welfare costs in the state before the end of the present fiscal year June 30. Miss Olson said the state may find it necessary to turn over to the counties the financing of relief cases because "the state welfare department cannot exceed its budget."

Gilbert pointed out that for the past seven years the state has paid 85 per cent and Delta county only 15 per cent of its direct relief costs. The state's financial situation may make it necessary for the counties to assume the relief burden in April or May, 1948. Most counties in Michigan, he added, are paying closer to the required 50 per cent participation.

How Divided

In discussion the supervisors indicated they would seek to cooperate in the welfare financing plan. The supervisors must go back to their townships or cities and take up with township boards and city councils or commissions the question of an appropriation at $1.50 per capita.

The townships and cities will receive a total of $204,222 in sales tax money. The $1.50 per capita will bring a total of $51,055 or about one-sixth of the sales tax revenue returned to them by the state.

At $1.50 per capita the units would appropriate the following amounts to the welfare fund of the county:

City of Escanaba	$22,245
Gladstone	$7,458
Townships of Wells	$3,300
Ford River	$1,293
Bark River	$2,065
Brampton	$888.50
Cornell	$925.50
Escanaba	$1,521
Maple Ridge	$2,091
Baldwin	$1,330.50
Masonville	$2,205
Ensign	$828
Bay de Noc	$684
Nahma	$1,868.50
Garden	$1,375
Fairbanks	$279

Cut Appropriations

Escanaba city supervisors who are also members of the city council indicated that they would favor such a plan if Gladstone and the townships cooperate.

This afternoon the county board was scheduled to hear a report of the finance committee on the 1948 budget, which has been tentatively set at about $187,000. The budget total for 1947 was $179,591.

Various economy measures are being considered by the committee for recommendation. Supervisor C. W. Stoll, finance committee chairman, reported that the committee will not recommend appropriations for advertising to the U. P. Development Bureau or the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, each of which received $200 last year.

No Weather Records Set Last Month; It Was Just Pleasant

With an average maximum of 63.2 degrees and an average minimum of 51.5, the mean temperature last month was 58.8, or 1.7 degrees above normal for September, Henry E. Hathaway, meteorologist in charge of the U. S. Weather bureau here, reports.

All in all, it was a pleasantly warm month, ideal for football, camp get-togethers, autumn golf, drives and even picnics for the more hardy outdoor lovers. Total precipitation last month was below normal, 2.75 as compared with 3.32, and there was no trace of snow. The records disclose that it is normal to have at least a trace of snow here in September.

The average temperature in September last year was about three degrees less than this September. The highest mean was 63 in 1931 and the coldest was 50 in 1918.

Hottest day last month was Sept. 6 when the mercury soared to 81, and the lowest temperature was recorded on Sept. 25 when it dropped to 27. Once, back in 1907, the mercury rose to 90 in September and on Sept. 28, 1893, it fell to a record low of 24.

Rainfall here since Jan. 1 totals 19.94, or 3.15 inches less than normal.

Briefly Told

Registered Bull Shot—A registered shorthorn bull owned by Frank Sheffers of Brampton was shot and killed this morning by William Dahn in Dahn's cow pasture. According to the report to sheriff's officers, Dahn went to his pasture to bring in his cows and the seven-month-old bull charged him. He returned to the house and got a shot gun and shot the animal twice in the head, officers reported.

Speeder—Roy Richards, local taxi driver, was fined today $5 and $3 costs for speeding.

"Commedia dell'Arte" was the name given to mediaeval Italian comedy in which the plot was written out but the dialogue improvised by the actors.

Coney Island, an amusement resort near New York City, originally was an island although now most of the bay, creeks and inlets have been filled in.

CAMPFIRE HAS BUSY PROGRAM

Red Feather Service Is Expanding; 300 Girls Enrolled

Delta County Campfire Girls are moving rapidly ahead in all phases of activity slanted for womanly virtues and by so doing are furthering the principles of democracy in their own communities and in the nation, the Bay de Noc Council emphasized today in a report of the Campfire Girls' progress.

"The principles for which the Campfire Girls stand are designed to encourage better citizenship," the council report explained. "These principles are give service, glorify work, be trustworthy, pursue knowledge, hold on to health, seek beauty and be happy."

The Campfire Girls' program is one of the Red Feather services provided in the county by the Delta County Community Chest, the annual subscription campaign for which will be held this month. The Bay de Noc Council plans to increase its membership in the present year and to provide a more extensive and complete training program for the council members, guardians and sponsors.

The Campfire Girls' program provides recreation and constructive training for girls between the ages of seven and 18. Campfire Girls assist with the crippled children treatment program in the summer months and in the physical therapy rooms. They also take part in the Red Cross and Community Chest campaigns, participate in Junior Red Cross work, assist in many community events, including the Upper Peninsula State Fair, the dairy exposition and the annual ice revue.

The Campfire Girl membership is now over 300, representing 19 units in all of the grade schools, junior high and senior high schools, and at the parochial schools.

Coney Island, an amusement resort near New York City, originally was an island although now most of the bay, creeks and inlets have been filled in.

Annual Meeting Of Red Cross Is Scheduled Tuesday

The annual meeting of Delta County Chapter of American Red Cross will be held Tuesday night in the Red Cross office. At this time a record of the years activities and finance will be presented to the public.

Delta Red Cross is this year observing its 30th of service and in token of the event all charter members and former officers have been invited to the meeting. Anyone who contributed a dollar or more is invited to attend the meeting Tuesday.

Mrs. Schmeltzer Dies in Marquette

Mrs. B. J. Schmeltzer, 53, Marquette, sister-in-law of A. J. Schmeltzer, 1122 Tenth avenue south, died at St. Mary's hospital in Marquette 11:30 Saturday night following a stroke.

Besides her husband, she is survived by four children: Mrs. Bernice Parson, Mrs. Rose Blickner, Frances and Wilbur Schmeltzer, all of Marquette.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Schmeltzer will attend the funeral services which will be held at St. Peter's cathedral Wednesday morning.

Rev. Otto Steen Speaks to Rotary

The Escanaba Rotary club at its meeting this noon heard Rev. Otto Steen, pastor of the First Methodist church, describe conditions in Norway and other European countries that he visited last summer.

DRUNK DRIVER FINED IN COURT

Several Minor Motor Accidents Over Weekend

Charles LeBay, Bark River, was fined $50 and $8.25 court costs in justice court today, where he was arraigned on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He also was ordered to pay $10 for damage to an automobile owned by Milton Berglund, 115 N. 13th street.

LeBay's automobile struck Berglund's car which was parked at 114 N. 13th street Saturday night. Three other minor automobile accidents were reported in the city over the weekend. A car driven by Arthur G. Anderson, 254 Lake Shore drive, went off highway US-2 and sideswiped a tree in a heavy fog. Anderson was cut on the head but a passenger, Eugene Harris, 1302 First avenue south, escaped injury. The car was considerably damaged.

Irene Johnson, 601 South Ninth street, sustained a skinned leg Saturday afternoon when she drove her bicycle into the side of an automobile driven by Roy

Employee Charged With Embezzlement

Anthony Ben Nelson, 1510 11th avenue North, charged with embezzlement from the Northern Bar Supply company, was arraigned in justice court yesterday morning. The case was continued to Oct. 20 at 2 p. m., when a hearing will be held in justice court. Nelson was released on $1,000 bond.

He is accused of embezzling $581 from the company, where he was employed.

FUEL OIL MAY BE SHORT SOON

Refineries Cannot Keep Up With Demand Increase

Escanaba dealers are urging their customers to conserve in the use of fuel oil this fall and winter because they fear there will be a serious shortage during the coming months.

Demand for fuel oil has increased tremendously during the last few years because of the heavy conversion to oil burners in the homes and the greater use of Diesel engines by railroads and industries. Oil refineries have insufficient capacity to meet the increased demand, one dealer explained.

Detroit's common council has warned the 60,000 home users of fuel oil to install coal burning grates, or coal stoves immediately if they do not have a written contract with an oil company.

A top official of a major refining company warned that 25,000 Detroit area homes would be without fuel this winter. The executive also criticized continued sales of oil burners and room heaters in the face of the fuel shortage. He claimed that "most of these people just are not going to get any oil, or at most enough for a few weeks of operation, and then they will start to freeze."

This warning was echoed in a recommendation by the Better Business Bureau in Detroit that "no dealer in oil burning equipment be permitted to advertise 'guaranteed oil contracts' or any other implication of an assured oil supply until satisfactory proof of ability to so protect customers is forthcoming." The bureau also pointed out that oil burner advertisers are not sources of fuel oil, but must depend upon the oil companies, which in turn may cancel contracts before the season is over.

Delta County Scouts Active In Past Year

Delta County's Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts and their leaders have experienced a varied program during the past year. A troop's or pack's success depends upon the type and the extent of its activities. It is through the means of these activities and with the aid of the Cub Scout promise and law and the Boy Scout oath and law that a Scout has instilled in him the fine principles of character—this in turn trains him to become a participating citizen.

Scouts have participated in paper drives, first aid meets, campfires and a Scout circus. Troops have taken advantage of the outdoor program of Scouting; Troop 453 conducted a camping trip to Isle Royale, Troop 444 of Escanaba and Troop 456 of Gladstone plan overnight camping trips regularly. Ninety Scouts spent a hundred boy weeks at Camp Red Buck this past summer which is an organized Scout camp of Hiawathaland Council.

Delta County can feel proud of her 13 Boy Scout Troops and nine Cub Packs. The units consist of 494 boys and 133 adult leaders. The following is a list of Scout units in the county:

Foster City Folks Attend Funeral of Drowning Victims

The Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Folden, of Foster City, plan to leave tomorrow for Hancock, Minn., to attend services, Tuesday, for her father, Vernon Schoenewether, 56, a rural mail carrier, and her brother, Hubert Schoenewether, 33, proprietor of Wayside Inn, in Ray, Minn., who were drowned Sept. 17 and whose bodies were recovered this week.

The story of the drowning in Lake Kabetogama was told by Melvin Larson, of Ray, Minn. The three men set out in what Larson, a game warden, called a "kicker" boat and crossed the lake. It was near Martin Island at about 5 p. m. that an eight-foot wave upset the boat and its occupants. The boat remained afloat and the three men clung to it, Larson said.

After clinging to the boat for an hour and a half, Vernon Schoenewether died of exposure and shock. A half hour later his son also died of exposure, shock and grief. The game warden hung on to the bodies as long as he could, he said, but they finally dipped into the water.

With normal usage, a telephone book grows in thickness about 15 per cent in six months.

Menominee Airport Has New Building

Menominee, Mich.—The new building at the Menominee county airport, constructed by M. & M. Aviation, Inc., was opened Saturday and the company's offices were moved to the airport from the Seidl building on Ogden avenue.

The airport building, which becomes the property of the county of Menominee but which will be leased to M. & M. Aviation for 20 years, is of concrete block and steel construction and provides a large lounge for airline passengers and student pilots, a pilots' ready room, a private office for the company and sanitary toilets. The building will be used as the airport administration building until the county constructs its own building.

M. & M. Aviation will construct a hangar next spring to house the fleet of airplanes it has based at the field. For the winter, the hangar from the old airport at M-35, which is owned by the M. & M., will be moved to the new airport.

Found Not Guilty In Marquette Case

Marquette, Mich.—Deliberating only 20 minutes, a jury of six found John A. Owens, Escanaba, not guilty of drunken driving after a two-hour and 25-minute trial Friday afternoon in municipal court.

Owens was arrested July 15 after his car stalled on South Front street. He apparently had shifted into the wrong gear, and the car backed up, going over the curbing and striking the door of the John Tapkin store, Fourth and Rock streets.

In the trial, before Judge Charles F. Swanson, Attorney Robert LeMire, Escanaba, counsel for the defense, called six witnesses. Two, Marvin Coon, Escanaba mayor and the former Marquette prison warden, and Gerald Cleary, Escanaba business man, were summoned to make statements regarding Owens' character and reputation.

Mrs. Mabel Powers Dies in Pulaski

Mrs. Mabel Powers, 68, widow of William Powers, and a former resident of Escanaba, died of a heart attack at her home in Pulaski, Wis., on September 30. Mrs. Powers moved to Wisconsin 14 years ago after Mr. Powers' death. She is survived by several nieces and nephews. Funeral services, which Mrs. James Powers and Mrs. Ragnar Anderson of this city, attended, were held in Bonduel, Wis., and burial was made there.

Huge Atomic Project

THE atomic energy commission's activities have been shrouded in so much secrecy that the gigantic scope of its operations is just beginning to reach the American public. It is now revealed that the federally sponsored atomic research and development program already under way greatly dwarfs the $2,000,000,000 wartime program that produced the first atomic bomb.

Chairman Lillenthal of the atomic commission has revealed in piecemeal and well guarded statements that the original atomic plant facilities that developed the atomic bomb are all being enlarged and placed upon a permanent basis. In addition vast sums are being spent for new facilities located in various places all over the United States. In Hanford, Washington, one plant alone comprising a city of 25,000 persons, when completed will cost the staggering sum of $700,000,000, including the original investment of $350,000,000 spent during the war years.

The atomic development program has been shrouded in great secrecy because of its enormous portent to national defense. Naturally, that is as it should be, particularly in view of the present unshaky status of the world peace.

The American people, who will have to pay this enormous bill, however, are entitled to know as much about this tremendous national undertaking as can be told to them without endangering the importance of atomic discoveries in national defense. Certainly they are entitled to know the complete extent of the physical properties operated by the atomic energy commission, information which foreign agents can get without any great difficulty.

Airport Project

COL. FLOYD EVANS, director of the state board of aeronautics, has hinted that the board will permit Nationwide Airlines to include Escanaba as a stop on its Upper Peninsula route when the city completes its project extending the east-west runway to 3,000 feet, waiving a CAB regulation that requires a minimum of 3,800 foot runways.

The state board of aeronautics would not be keeping faith with the City of Escanaba if the board failed to waive the CAB requirement for Escanaba. The emergency airport extension project now under way was authorized by the city only after the state director of aeronautics had promised that Nationwide Airlines would be permitted to land its DC-3's here when the east-west runway was extended to 3,000 feet. In fact, the state board has contributed $2,500 to the emergency project, the remainder of the cost to be borne by the City of Escanaba.

The east-west runway extension is simply an emergency project. Wisconsin Central planes, for instance, even their Lockheed Electras, which are smaller than Nationwide's DC-3's, will not be eligible to open commercial air service in Escanaba until at least one runway is extended to 3,800 feet, the minimum requirement of the Civil Aeronautics board, the federal counterpart of the state's aeronautics board.

The City of Escanaba proposes to extend its north-south runway to 3,800 feet to meet CAB requirements and the federal government has approved its share of the cost for this improvement.

Peculiarly, the applications for both the Escanaba and Iron Mountain federal aid for airports were submitted at the same time. Iron Mountain is already under way with its project which will be completed within the next three months, except for blacktopping, planned for next summer. In contrast, the Escanaba federal aid project is stymied in a mass of delays.

Russia's Choice

UNDOUBTEDLY, it is trite to say that the United Nations faces its greatest crisis. Everybody—even the diplomats who tried hardest to hide their concern—is saying that the UN has been pushed to where it must put up or shut up.

It's trite, but it's true. It's so true, and so important, that it can't possibly be repeated too often. The more sincerely one hopes that the UN eventually will succeed, the more it becomes his duty to insist that the world peace organization must absolutely find some way—and soon—of settling international arguments without exploding atom bombs.

We don't have to ask whether the UN experiment was worth while. It was more than that. It was inevitable. There had to be a table around which spokesmen for the nations could sit and substitute words for bullets. We provided such a table. It is the United Nations.

As of now, the UN is not functioning. With her veto, Russia is stopping dead every effort to attack a potential cause of future war. She has the Security Council stymied. The General Assembly has no veto, but neither has it any power to take positive action on other than procedural matters.

Now the United States wants to build up the Assembly to fill some gaps left by the Council's impotency. Unfortunately, the possibilities along this line are very limited.

The Assembly can remain in permanent session through a standing committee, and it can provide special committees—which Russia forbids the Council to do—to watch aggression. These expedients can make the Assembly a better sounding board for the world's conscience.

But, as the battle proceeds to build up the Assembly in hope of saving the UN, we must keep in mind practical things.

There is no way to give the General Assembly any positive powers without revising the UN charter. Such revision is subject to exactly the same veto that Russia has in the Council. It is not conceivable that the Soviet Union will withhold that veto against a move to get around the veto.

If Russia would co-operate to the extent of not vetoing such a charter change, she would co-operate to the extent of not abusing her Council veto. And then the charter change would be unnecessary.

The crisis confronting the UN today is not basically procedural. It can't be resolved by tinkering with the machinery. It can be stated simply:

The non-Soviet powers have compromised and backed water until their backs are against open sky. One more step and they totter over the cliff. Russia presses forward. She refuses to concede or compromise.

We, and those who share our viewpoint, have made a stand under Secretary of State Marshall. The crisis is here. It involves one vital question:

Will Russia bluff it through and break up the UN? Or, discovering that we have backed as far as we can go, will she play ball for world peace?

Lewis Slapped Down

DESPITE organized labor's united attack on the Taft-Hartley law, the unions are showing increased evidence of realization of the protection provided to labor by the much-maligned labor act.

This was indicated the past week at the AFL convention at which AFL leaders clipped the wings of John L. Lewis because Lewis balked at signing anti-Communist affidavits required by the law. Lewis was stripped of his title and much of his authority as a vice president, along with 11 other vice presidents.

This was a technical move designed to pave the way for the AFL federal unions to qualify for use of NLRB facilities. The federal unions differ from so-called national unions in the sense that they are directly controlled by the top officials of the AFL.

Organized labor's regard for the value of NLRB services is indicated by its willingness to slap down Lewis in order to obtain the services of the labor board.

The little federal unions, 1,500 of them, have a combined membership of 300,000, only half as many in total as Lewis' United Mine Workers. If Lewis continues to deny NLRB facilities to his own 600,000 miners because of a stubborn refusal to sign an anti-Red affidavit, he may even face mounting opposition from his own members who have been extremely loyal to Lewis. Some segments of organized labor have learned that Lewis is not bigger than the U. S. government.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

WORDS TO WATCH

Watch the second syllable in the word hospitable—not hoss-SPIT-able. Accenting the second syllable is a Britishism that is not good usage in America. It also gives the word a connotation that is rather unpleasant. This column recommends the standard American pronunciation: HOSS-pit-ul-b'l.

The first syllable of the word fallacy (fall-) suggests the word "fall." This leads some people to pronounce fallacy as "FAWL-us-see." But "fall" and "fallacy" are not related. Be sure to rhyme the first syllable of fallacy with "pal, gal," thus: FAL-uh-see.

There are no such words as "agriculturalist" and "horticulturalist." The proper words are agriculturist and horticulturist, pronounced: AG-ri-KUL-tur-ist, HAWR-b-KUL-tur-ist.

Mrs. N. S. C. of Montgomery, reports a controversy that has been going on in her family for several days. She states that she and her children cannot convince her 80-year-old father that it is incorrect to pronounce balcony as "bal-KOE-nee." "That's what I was taught to say as a boy," he declares, "and I'll be a ring-tailed baboon if I'm going to change now!"

It will surprise many of my readers to know that it once was correct to accent balcony on the -co- syllable. However, it went out of good usage more than a century ago. No dictionary today sanctions "bal-KOE-nee." The correct pronunciation is: BAL-kuh-nee.

Two other words which should be accented on the first syllable only are: gondola (GON-duh-luh or GON-doe-luh) and pergola (PER-guh-luh or PER-roe-luh).

Several readers have written for the pronunciation and meaning of the GI slang word gimmick. It means "gadget, contrivance, device." The "g" is hard as in "gimlet." Say: GIM-ik. Another GI word of exactly the same meaning is gizmo, also pronounced with the hard "g," thus: GIZZ-moe.

Mr. Colby has prepared a list of commonly misspelled familiar words in a handy

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Paris, France.—The chief failure of American diplomacy in the two years since the end of the war stands out conspicuously at this moment when Europe is divided between east and west. It is primarily a failure to come into contact and to understand the political leaders on the left who are not attached to Communism.

Far more might have been done to win these men over to the belief that the United States stands for true democracy and that no intervention in the affairs of another government is implied by American aid. Unfortunately, American diplomacy is not geared to such a task.

These leaders are for the most part Socialist or Social-Democrats whose economic and political views closely parallel those of the labor leaders now in power in Great Britain. They abhor revolution and totalitarianism. They believe that Socialism can be achieved by democratic means through the convictions of a majority of the people.

—DRIFTING TOWARD COMMUNISM—

In Italy leaders of this type representing minor parties are fairly important. Despite the years of Fascism, Italian Socialism on the democratic British model had deep roots that have been revived since the overthrow of Mussolini. The non-Communist left has considerable strength here in France.

These forces in Europe have tended in general in the past two years to drift toward Communism. Thus, in Italy, Pietro Nenni has led the majority of the Socialist party into a union with the Communist party. He told me in an interview in Rome that he felt compelled to take this step in order to try to save his party from obliteration. If he had not taken it, his following would have gone over to Communism, feeling there was no alternative.

At a critical moment, of course, when the Communists were appealing for a united front of the left to oust the De Gasperi government, Giuseppe Saragat, leader of the right wing Socialists, threw in his lot with the United States and the Marshall plan. While he has 51 seats in the parliament, there seems to be considerable doubt as to the extent of Saragat's popular following.

Failure to win over the moderate left is not so much the fault of individuals. The American diplomatic approach following the early British pattern, simply does not cover a sufficient range to take in politicians and political parties on the periphery of power.

In the tradition of the diplomacy of the past, all power was centered in the government—actually in the king or in the king's mistress. The diplomat was a personal representative from one monarch to another and, therefore, his whole horizon was bounded by the court and the little court circle with its intrigues and conspiracies.

The British appear to have done far more than we have to break away from this outmoded tradition. When he was foreign secretary, Anthony Eden initiated drastic changes. While the hand of tradition still rests heavily on that sacred precinct, the light of the present-day world has begun to filter into the foreign office.

—STUDY LABOR RELATIONS—

American embassies and legations now have labor attaches who specialize in reporting on labor problems. They seem for the most part to be able and alert with a broad knowledge of their field. But they work within the confines of a job with definite bureaucratic limitations. Those limits do not include political contact or political reporting.

The labor attaché knows that he may get his fingers burned if he oversteps the limits of his job. So he stays within bounds even though he may be aware of a vast field unexplored and unrelated to American interest.

It is at this point that you see clearly what a tragic mistake it was for Congress to curtail so drastically the United States information service. Information officers were developing relationships outside the sphere of government. Editors of varying shades of political opinion were assured of American interest. Then abruptly this was chopped down almost to nothing.

Take the British example as a contrast. The British maintain information offices in a half dozen key provincial cities in France. The British themselves feel that the most important function of those offices is the opportunity they afford for Britishers with a knowledge of France to come in friendly contact with editors and politicians. This is a two-way street—knowledge is given and obtained.

The U. S. information service had offices in two cities outside Paris. They are now closed because of the shortsighted economy of the last Congress. A special congressional committee touring more than a dozen European capitals to explore this very question already has become convinced of the need for an expanded information service, according to Chairman Karl Mundt of South Dakota.

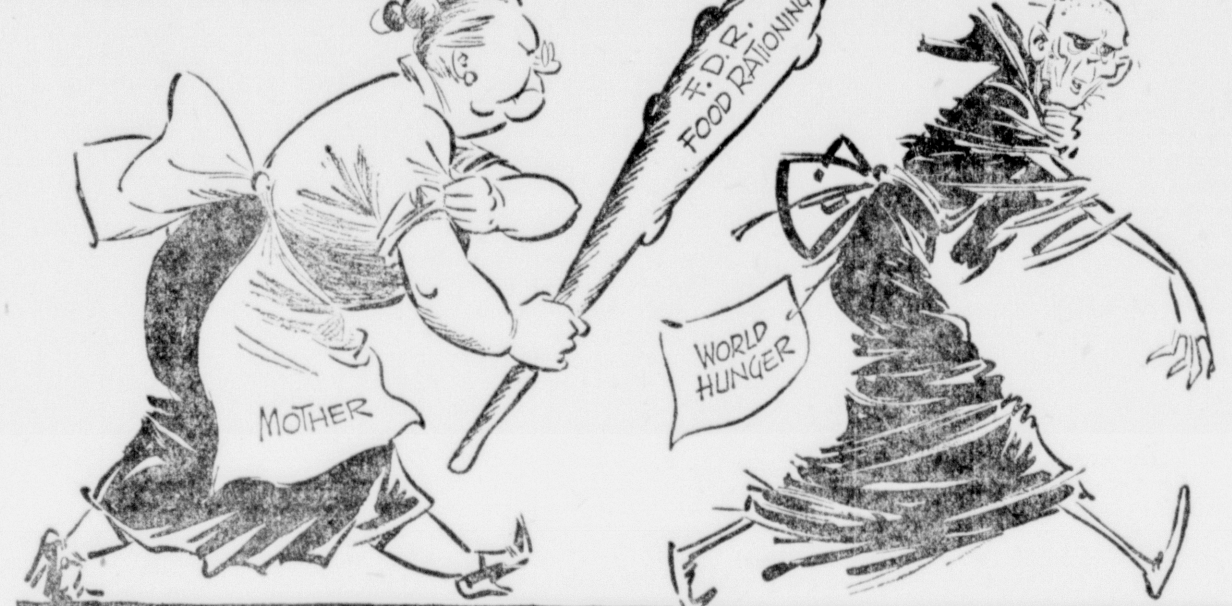

The entire horizon of American interest must be expanded. This is essential for greater understanding of the complex world in which we are living. It is also essential if we are to take the leadership implied in the Marshall plan.

FIRST IN PEACE

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

ON HOW TO GET OUT—There are two kinds of people in America: Those who like banquets and those who don't. You can go farther and say that those who like banquets blossom under the influence of good fellowship and a before-dinner martini, and they reach full flower listening to dull platitudes expounded by dull speakers. The other kind start cinging when they hear of an impending banquet that they must attend, and they suffer—oh, how they suffer—until the whole miserable experience is ended.

Dunathan

Some people of our acquaintance break out in a rash just before the dinner is to start and they then have a legitimate excuse for staying home. Others go a step farther, get as far as the dining hall and then retreat to the bar. Still others will sit through the dinner but leave before the speaker is introduced. This last calls for perfect timing and a fine sense of strategy, which we will describe more fully.

SEVERAL WAYS—In the progress of any dinner leading to the climax of the speaker's appearance there are several opportune times for the victim to withdraw before it is too late.

The first of these comes just after the main course and before the dessert is served. The waitresses are busy clearing the tables and the toastmaster is busy thinking up witty things to say when he makes introductions. It is at this moment that the unwilling guest can make a getaway if he uses finesse. If his foot slips he will just look slightly embarrassed for being caught in the act.

One way to do it is to jump suddenly and glance at your watch with a frown. Shake your head a bit, chiding yourself for having such a poor memory as to forget an important engagement. Then smile ruefully at the toastmaster, point dramatically at your watch and hurry out, closing the door softly behind you. This will lead everyone to think that you are a busy man who has suddenly remembered an appointment.

THE ILL APPROACH—The above method will make you miss your dessert and coffee, but perhaps it's worth it. The next suggestion is trickier and takes practice to accomplish.

In this one you begin slowing down on your dinner when almost finished. Look around you with a pained little smile. Touch your stomach lightly if it's that kind of a gathering. Indicate by word and expression that indigestion has you in its grip. When the dessert comes, toy with it, but eat it manfully. Then arrange your coffee, ashrays or chair as if you were going to stay all night. With startling suddenness let a frown of pain crease your brow. Turn quickly to the man beside you, whisper something hurriedly, and rush out.

At the door stumble just a bit, look back and smile bravely. Next day everyone will ask you how you feel. Tell them you felt better as soon as you got out in the air. You did, didn't you?

THE LAST GASP—All of this takes perfect timing and you have to be somewhat of an actor to carry it off convincingly. You can't play the same one twice, so you should have at least three in

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—The famous choral organization, the Don Cossacks, will present a Russian concert in William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium tonight.

Escanaba—Among the new books received at Carnegie Library are "It's Up to the Women," by Mrs. F.D.R.; Feuchtwanger's "Moscow, 1937," and Maxim's "Horseless Carriage Days."

Manistique—Three more coyotes lost their skins Tuesday as a result of the activities of State Trapper Peter Bauers, who now has a total of more than a score for September and October.

Gladstone—Mr. and Mrs. Ole Peterson have returned from a motor trip to Marquette where Mr. Peterson served on the panel of the jury during the session of the federal court there.

Escanaba—Miss Gertrude Jaeger, R. N., of Elmhurst, Ill., has returned here from an extensive trip abroad during which she received audience with Pope Pius in the Vatican.

Sault Ste. Marie—After a year's insistence through letters, invitations and communications, Chippewa county board of supervisors agreed to join the Upper Peninsula Supervisors' association and to send two delegates to each meeting of the organization. Herbert W. Rannels, who has objected to the membership, told the board he had changed his mind and that in his opinion the association would not duplicate the work of the U. P. Development Bureau.

your repertoire if you are going to keep your audience with you. So far we have outlined two impromptu exits that will save you from sitting through the speeches. The third one is the most forthright and probably the best, although you will have to do it well to receive the full measure of applause from your audience.

Before dinner begins go to the head table and have the toastmaster introduce you to the speaker. In a loud voice tell the speaker that you have another meeting later but you could not resist coming to hear at least a part of his talk. You will, however, be forced to leave before he is finished.

You may then enjoy your dinner in comfort and security and when the speaker begins to bore you stand up slowly, apologetically, until you catch the speaker's attention. Nod and smile at him and he will smile back at you. There is something between you and him, an understanding, an affinity. The others will wonder but they know that you are leaving with the speaker's blessing. Next day you can say casually that the speech was one of the best you ever heard.

DON'T DO THIS—If you plan to walk out on a speaker, don't eye him surreptitiously during dinner. We have seen men itching to get away to a second show who muffed their chances that way. They watched the speaker until he caught their eye. Guilt made them look away. Then they began thinking. What if everyone walked out on a speaker? The speaker had come a long way, gone to a lot of trouble to prepare his talk. In that frame of mind you'll sit there to the bitter end.

And don't become frantic over escape. Just be calm and make your plans beforehand. If you get flurried you will look as ridiculous as the man who grabbed his coffee cup, jumped up and said in a loud voice that he wanted more coffee. He walked out, leaving the waitress with the coffee urn standing at his elbow. That takes a lot of explaining.

Mason City, Ia., (P)—Here the school kids learn to spell Tschai-kowsky as soon as they do Mississippi.

This is one of the most music-conscious small cities in America, and it has a high school band that hasn't been defeated in 19 years. They groom school children for band and orchestra work here as intensively as Notre Dame goes in for football. And the training starts in kindergarten.

These junior members of the bubble gum set are too young to huff and puff through regular wind instruments, so they begin by learning the basis of all music—rhythm. Each kindergarten has its own small rhythm band, and the concerts are more fun than mother goose.

Band playing is something you have to sink your teeth into. The children therefore aren't encouraged to start playing wind instruments until the third grade. "Before that their teeth aren't too good, and they have trouble with the reeds," smiled Carleton Stewart, high school band director and president of the National High School Band Association.

Popular As Coach

Stewart is a small pleasant man with a neat dark mustache and is now in his seventeenth year here. He is as popular among the students as any athletic coach. He has a record in competition that the late Knute Rockne might envy.

"Our band has been in nine national contests and won a first division award every time," he said. "Our orchestra has won a first division award in five of its six national contests."

The city was so proud of its band that in 1934 its citizens voted to erect a $25,000 school building devoted exclusively to instrumental music—the first of its kind in the nation.

"Since that was still a depression year it showed strong community enthusiasm and support for our music program," said Stewart.

Some 400 pupils are now studying instrumental music. The music laboratory has its own recording machine and a movie camera.

"The movie camera is good for Esprit de Corps," said Stewart. "We take it along on trips to make pictures of the band."

"Our band really starts in kindergarten. A good band has to be planned years in advance. It's too late to start in senior high school. You have to have continuity of training all along. I can go to the junior high schools now and pick the core of my band for three years hence."

Less than one percent of the band players become professional musicians, but that isn't the aim. "Most retain a lifelong interest in music," Stewart said, "and band playing teaches them many other things—teamwork, coordination, how to get along with the other fellow."

The city annually has a band festival that brings here as many as fifty neighboring town bands. It also has a woman's symphony orchestra, a tax-supported community band for summer park concerts, a 50-member Chamber of Commerce Glee Club and a choral society for both men and women.

Yes, music matters in Mason City. Incidentally, it actually is easier to learn to spell Tschai-kowsky than Mississippi. You do it with chant and rhyme as in a college yell—like this:

"T-s-c-i-l-l!
"H-a-i-l-l!
"S-k-o-w-y-l-l!
"S-k-o-w-y-l-l!
"Tschai-kowsky!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Newspapers gave considerable space to the first press conference staged by Food Committee Chairman

Chuck Luckman and the fact that newsmen severely rattled his usually suave and polished aplomb.

But what the newspapers did not know was that Luckman had just come from a backstage battle within his committee, over meatless Tuesday and the only thing he really had to announce was that the committee was split wide open. Not wishing to reveal this, he couldn't reveal much of anything.

What happened behind the scenes was that when Luckman's committee couldn't agree, President Truman, who has a deep personal conviction about the importance of food to Europe, virtually took the bit in his teeth. He tilted the scales in favor of the meatless Tuesday.

The whole matter was not decided, however, until shortly before the president went on the radio Sunday. Briefly, here is the backstage byplay:

When Luckman called the citizens food committee together, Mrs. Kathryn Stone of the League of Women Voters staunchly opposed a meatless day.

"There's no sense asking housewives to observe a meatless day when many of them already are observing one or more meatless days a week, due to high prices," Mrs. Stone declared. "The first thing we've got to do if you want to save grain and bring down meat prices is cut down the amount of grain being fed to cattle."

In fact, Mrs. Stone was for much stronger measures and urged that the president call a special session of Congress of deal with the entire problem of European relief and inflation. On Nov. 1, she pointed out, installment credit-buying restrictions expire and this will give a further boost to inflation.

"Furthermore," Mrs. Stone added, "you have got to tell the American women the whole story behind the need for conserving food if you expect them to have the political maturity to cooperate wholeheartedly. You've got to tell them exactly why it is so vital to our own welfare that we help friendly European nations. That hasn't been done."

Others who came out against a meatless day and for a special session of Congress were James Patton, head of the National Farmers' Union, and Don Montgomery, right-hand man of CIO President Phil Murray.

"A meatless day is impractical and I doubt very much that it will work," declared Montgomery at the closed-door session. "The first thing we ought to do is to stop overfeeding of wheat to cattle. We derive only one-seventh of the original caloric content of wheat in a piece of meat from grain-fed cattle. The other six-sevenths are lost in the feeding." Another who voiced strong objections was George Le Sauvage of the National Restaurant association.

"The restaurants tried a meatless day in the spring of 1945 and, as I recall, during the first World War," said Le Sauvage. "It didn't work then. In my opinion it won't work now. Another thing, what are you going to do about hamburger and frankfurter stands? Most of them operate on small margins of profit, depending on volume sales. They may be forced to the wall if they have to observe a meatless day."

On the other hand, some committee members, including Albert Goss of the National Grange, thought a meatless day would work if the general public were sufficiently impressed with the need of stopping starvation and Communism in Europe. But farm leader Goss strongly objected to the special-session demands of Mrs. Stone, Montgomery and Patton.

"Lowering prices will increase consumption, but it will not provide more food," asserted Goss. "We can conserve food only by voluntary action of the public. And if we save more food that, in itself, will increase supplies and therefore bring down prices. This crisis can be handled without calling Congress back into session."

—SPLIT VOTE—

When a final vote was taken the committee was split about 50-50 on a meatless Tuesday. So Luckman didn't press the point. When he reported this to the president, however, Truman was quite emphatic.

"We've got to make up our minds that we can't lick this problem with half-way, namby-pamby measures," he told Luckman, in effect. "There are certain simple specific ways to conserve food. One is a meatless day. I'm going to recommend it to the nation."

Luckman didn't have to be sold on this. He had already argued eloquently but vainly for a meatless day, and now he put in long-distance calls to Mrs. Stone, Jim Patton and others to tell them how the president felt. Most then withdrew their objection. So, by the time Mr. Truman went on the air with his radio appeal to the nation, most food committee members had pledged their support.

It's unfortunate that as many people don't get out and vote as get out and kick about who was elected.

If you must let things slide, get a job as a trombone player and make it pay.

New York—I suppose I am a happy man because after all I am wearing the new look, which comes from the fact that I have switched to Calvert's and don't smoke opium anymore and on the meatless days I eat Red Heart dog food, which, if it's good enough for Lassie, is certainly good enough for me.

I rub Nucoa on my hair because it's so sweet and fresh, and while my living room is jealous of my rumpus room, because my rumpus room is sheathed in Gold Bond gypsum, I don't really care much because I've got my Arrow shirts to always keep me alluring. Anyhow, anybody who is young and lovely and engaged and smeared to here with pond's has got very little beef.

There ain't no fattle-tale gray on this boy's tablecloths, and you won't find any catty women whispering behind their hands about me, because for one thing, my Grabow pipes are pre-smoked by a midget I have tied to the andirons for that purpose alone. For another, I keep my International sterling silver stacked in a neat heap in front of the door, just to make those horrid Smiths jealous, and ever since I began to use Colgate's my leprosy has mysteriously vanished.

Lux keeps my Brooks Bros. suits as fresh as ever can be, and maybe fresher and all the girls ogle me because they know I am never a guy to go out unless I have Rinsoed my skivvies, and I haven't had pink toothbrush since I stopped drinking neat pomegranate juice, a beverage I never liked much, anyhow, because an old Four Roses man except when an old urge for Campbell's soup hits me, which I must admit is awful seldom.

Iron River Man Hunts In Canada

Iron River, Mich.—Harold J. Richards, Caspian, general manager of Pickands, Mather & Co. properties on the Menominee range and a member of the state conservation commission, is en route to a distant hunting grounds in Canada.

He left with Mrs. Richards Thursday afternoon and drove to Duluth where they transferred from their car to a drawing room on the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific sleeper train for Winnipeg, Man.

Arriving in Winnipeg, the Richards registered at the Fort Garry hotel and he made arrangements to continue by plane to the Pas, Manitoba, northwest of Winnipeg.

There he will hunt ducks, geese and probably will get in several days of caribou hunting. Richards made arrangements in advance for guides, and he will be greeted at The Pas by game wardens of the province who will extend special hospitality to the member of the conservation commission of the neighbor state across the border.

Iron River Plans Airport Project

Iron River.—Support in the move under way to establish a first class airport here was pledged last night by the Iron River Business Men's association at a regular meeting held at Martin's cafe. The merchants declared that developed airport facilities are essential to the future of the community.

President Howard H. Billings will name a committee to work with the west side airport authority of affiliated groups in the promotion. Discussion at the meeting, which followed a report on a recent flight to Detroit by Billings and Mayor Carlson, centered around how lack of developed airport facilities will affect

Meeting On Potato Grades Here Nov. 18

Four potato grading meetings, for the purpose of setting up a more uniform interpretation of potato grades and standards, will be conducted in the Upper Peninsula next month, Dennis L. Clananah, assistant state crops specialist, said today.

The meetings, to be attended by Clananah; C. L. Nash, of Michigan State college, and E. L. Bid-dick, Federal supervisor for the Federal state crop inspection service, will be held as follows: Escanaba, November 18; Crystal Falls, November 19; Houghton, November 20, and Newberry, November 21.

Demonstrations of grading will be conducted at each. Potato dealers, loaders and graders are being invited.

With county agricultural agents cooperating with the state department of agriculture and the Michigan State College extension service, the gatherings are an outgrowth of investigations conducted by a potato inspection study committee appointed by the governor last year. The governor acted following expressions of dissatisfaction by farmers in the central part of the state as to the lack of uniformity between inspectors as to what constitutes a grade.

A. There were only two: Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor and Harold Ickes, Secretary of Interior.

Q. Can you tell me how to clean a black felt hat?

A. Brush it thoroughly, then wipe it lightly with a cloth which has been dipped in a cleaning fluid. When it is dry, apply fine sandpaper lightly to remove discolorations and to restore the nap.

Q. There seemed to be a large number of air forces in the European Theatre of Operations during the last war, and only one or two in the Pacific. How many were there really in the Pacific?

A. Three, plus the Naval air arm. They were the Fifth, Seventh and Thirteenth air forces. The Fifth was known more or less as General MacArthur's air force and fought the whole way from Australia to Japan. The Seventh came through the central Pacific. The 13th, while fighting in the southwest Pacific, as the 5th, toward the end of the

An unusually large number of big hands were dealt at Friday evening's session of the Delta Bridge League, including no less than three big slams and two little slams. Most of the remaining hands were tricky and exasperating part-score affairs.

Those scoring over fifty per cent were as follows:

1. Mrs. B. M. Howe and Mrs. J. L. Tenby, 5955.
2. Mrs. Anna Kraus and Mrs. J. H. Shipman, 5727.
3. Mrs. Wm. J. Clark and Mrs. L. P. Treiber, 5455.
4. Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Dehlin, 5364.

5. Mrs. Jim Ferguson and Mrs. Harry Needham, 5091.

6-7. Mrs. W. P. Belanger and Mrs. E. L. Murphy, 5045.

6-7. Mrs. Ed Martenson and Mrs. M. Sauma, 5045.

8. Mrs. D. R. Remington and Mrs. Kibby Treiber, 5000.

Several of the former league players returned for the season at Friday night's session, and the league urges that anyone who enjoys contract bridge, attend the meetings. Play is held each Friday evening, at the Elks' club, second floor, beginning at 8 o'clock.

New York Chautauqua Offers
Boys Both Music and Sports

For boys with musical ability and outdoor wanderlust during the long, hot summer months, the Columbus Boychoir School offers a wonderful opportunity. From the first of July until the middle (15th) of August, boys enrolled in the school's famous musical camp become a part of the group life of the Columbus Boychoir School on Chautauqua Lake in New York.

Here they enjoy recreational activities interspersed with the finest music. They attend concerts of the Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra under the direction of France Autori with Mischa Mischakoff. The personnel of this famous summer symphony is drawn from the finest orchestras. They also hear the Chautauqua Opera Company which presents several operas in English each season and features such soloists as Josephine Antoinette and Donald Dame of the Metropolitan Opera Association.

While the musical program of the camp is chiefly vocal, arrangements can be made for instrumental training as well as participation in the Chautauqua Student Orchestra for those who qualify.

The boys attend the free programs, held in the amphitheatre, which present many distinguished artists. Several Sunday evenings during the camp period, the boys appear in musicals with the Chautauqua choir. At other times they sing in concerts with the Columbus Boychoir. These public appearances help boys cultivate poise and ability to appear at ease before an audience and constitute an important part of training.

Comedy of Loves
Is First One-Act
Of Civic Theatre

Civic Theatre, for its first one-act play of the season, is presenting "Confessions," directed by Miss Mary Roberts, before members of Civic Theatre at their meeting in the council rooms of City Hall at 7:30 Tuesday night, Oct. 14.

"Confessions" is a comedy of loves by Conan Doyle, author of the Sherlock Holmes favorites. The drama takes place between a husband and wife as they sit in the living room, reminiscing bygone days. Frank, the husband, is played by Gardner Eversole and his wife Maude, is played by Mrs. Cheever Buckbee, new member of the dramatic group.

Mrs. Gardner Eversole will act as prompter, Earl Flagstad is stage manager and properties are in the charge of Phillip Beauchamp.

After the play has been presented before the group, it will be polished and improved, after which the cast will be ready to present the one-act play to civic and church organizations who wish them to appear on their programs. Other one-act plays will be worked up soon and these too will be available to Escanaba groups.

IS PETITIONEDIndian Lake Residents
Press Restoration
Of Lake Level

The seriousness of the situation at Indian Lake where the water stage, a couple of weeks ago reached a record low, is explained in petitions prepared by owners of lakeshore property and signed by residents of the area. The petition, containing several hundred names will be presented for consideration of the Schoolcraft county board of supervisors now in session.

The text of the petition follows: "We, the undersigned, respectfully request that your board take whatever steps are necessary to establish and maintain the official water level on Indian Lake which was established by court decree in June, 1945.

"It is a mistaken idea that the only people interested in maintaining the water level on Indian Lake and River are four or five resort owners. It is far more important to the community as a whole. The State of Michigan has invested approximately one half million dollars in Public Parks, Playgrounds, and resort and recreation facilities for the benefit of this community, and the private homes built by local and out of state individuals far outnumber those of a few resort operators, who, with a few exceptions, depend upon other sources to make a living.

"Both public and private interests have suffered great loss, and future development will cease, and the importance of Manistique as a resort center will diminish if the present intolerable conditions continue. The tourist industry brings between $500,000.00 and $600,000.00 outside cash into Manistique every summer, chiefly attracted by Indian Lake and Big Spring State park.

"When an official level has been established by Court Decree it is mandatory upon the Board of Supervisors of the county in which such lake is located to maintain said level."

NATIONAL BANK
NOTES BIRTHDAYHas Had Substantial
Growth In Past
13 Years

The First National Bank, of Manistique, noted on Saturday the thirteenth anniversary of the granting of its charter.

In a statement issued as of October 10, Fred H. Hahne, executive vice president expressed gratitude to people of the Manistique area for the confidence and support that enabled that institution to grow from a banking organization with deposits of a little over $100,000 to one whose resources have passed the two million dollar mark.

These resources are verified in a statement of the bank's condition as of October 6, which shows that the institutions total resources amount to $2,313,861.17.

WILL ORGANIZE
COUNTY DHIADairy Farmers Asked To Attend Meeting At Court House

Furthering of the dairy industry in Schoolcraft county is the objective of a meeting to be held in the court house here on the evening of Thursday, October 16 having for its purpose the organizing of a dairy herd improvement association.

Clayton Reid, county agent, who is arranging the meeting, states that a capable young man is available to do the necessary herd testing, but to make his task worthwhile he will have to have twenty-five to thirty herds lined up and ready to start November 1.

At next Thursday evening's meeting, which will start at 7:30 o'clock purchase of equipment, annual dues, tester's salary and other arrangements will be worked out.

All who are interested are invited to attend the meeting. The county agent lists the following advantages of a dairy herd improvement association:

Better production results.
Saving on feed.
Culling of unprofitable cows.
Enabling dairymen to keep track of tests.

Better prices for surplus stock.

YOUTH ADMITS
ENTERING CABINSpent Money Taken When
Ford River Cabin
Was Burglarized

Entry and burglarizing of a cabin at Ford River Mills owned by John L. Terens of West Ford River was solved by Michigan State Police with the arrest of a 13-year-old minor delinquent from Route 1, Bark River.

The cabin was entered on October 8 by someone who knew where the key to the building was kept. A billfold which was in the cabin and contained $7 was taken.

Officers were told by the youth that the money was spent and the billfold thrown away.

The case has been turned over to William J. Miller, juvenile judge, for disposition.

BB Gun Use Within City Limits Banned

Promiscuous firing of BB guns within the city limits must halt or the offenders will be arrested and dealt with according to the law, it is stated by Police Torval Kallerson.

Chief Kallerson said that one complainant declared the youth was shooting at passing automobiles. Such a practice is particularly dangerous and might result in legal action for damages either to auto or for personal injury or both.

Cooperation of parents in curbing the practice of using the guns about the city is asked by the police chief. The guns may only be used legally outside city limits.

In Memoriam

To the beautiful memory of Clifford Mosier who passed away one year ago, October 13, 1946:

A year of silent sorrow,
A year of grief and pain;
We miss you when the morning dawns.

We miss you when the night returns;
We miss you here, we miss you there.

Dear Clifford, we miss you everywhere.
Your loving smile, your loving face,

No one can fill your vacant place,
And when we sit and think of you,

Our hearts are filled with pain;
Our home would be like heaven,
Could we hear your voice again.

Signed:
Mr. and Mrs. William Mosier

Gladstone Still Unbeaten; St. Joe. Holds Norway To 26-7 Win

LeGault Scores Twice As Braves Tip Indians In 25-13 Grid Battle

Gladstone, Oct. 12.—With shift Capt. Dave LeGault setting the pace, the Gladstone high school Braves defeated the Newberry Indians, 25 to 13, Saturday afternoon to remain undefeated for the season.

LeGault scored twice on runs of 34 and 32 yards while his teammates, Fullback Cliff Gillis and Halfback Ken Lessard each scored once. Gooseberry, hard running Newberry back, scored both of the Indians' touchdowns.

However, the game was closer than the score indicates and the Braves Saturday afternoon were particularly vulnerable to passes. Winning the toss, Gladstone received and rolled up three first downs to go to the 12 where on the next play Gillis fumbled with Newberry recovering on the 8. Unable to gain, Newberry punted with Madden returning from the 5 to Newberry's 23. The Braves chalked up a first down and then Gillis passed to Capt. LeGault who was downed on the two. Gillis in a line plunge scored. His placement for extra point hit the cross bar and bounced back onto the field and Gladstone led 6-0.

PACKERS LOSE TO CARDINALS

14-10 Triumph Moves Chicago Eleven To Top Rung

Green Bay, Wis.—Jimmy Conzelmann's Chicago Cardinals, the team with the "dream backfield" and the line to match, took over undisputed first place in the western division of the National Football league here Sunday afternoon, beating what had been the only other undefeated team in the division, the Green Bay Packers, in a dng dong battle before a record breaking crowd of 25,502 fans, 14-10.

The victory left the Cardinals high and dry on the top rung of the ladder with three straight victories and dropped the Packers into a tie with the Los Angeles Rams for second place with two victories and one defeat.

It was every bit the battle the advance dope had it, and it might have gone either way. Three times down in close in the final quarter, the Packers threatened to score the touchdown that would have won, but each time they bumped into a stone wall or fumbled.

A field goal by Fritsch gave the Packers the first three points early in the second quarter after which they rested their scoring until the Cardinals had tallied two touchdowns. Elmer Engstrom scored the first at the far end of a 54 yard drive in the second quarter and Red Cochrane the second on the tail end of a 53 yard drive early in the third quarter. Tony Canadeo scored Green Bay's lone touchdown, capping a march which began right after Cochrane had scored.

They felt each other out in the first quarter, the Cardinals with four first downs, the Packers with three, but only the Packers made theirs eventually pay off. The Cardinals never got beyond mid-field. The Packers waited until late in the first period to get their initial first down, starting on their own 15, quickly added two others—long ones—and on the last play of the first down found themselves with a first down on Chicago's 27.

Here was the best position either team had had so far, and the Packers took it to score the game's first points. Gillette and Schlinkman quickly added a fourth first down on Chicago's 14 and the 25-50 thought they saw a touchdown in the making. On the 14 however, the Bays bumped into a stone wall and on fourth down Fritsch stepped back to the 21 and kicked a field goal.

to gain and pushed back toward their own goal, punted to their own 35. One play netted a yard and LeGault rounded right end and outplayed the secondary to the goal. Gillis attempted to plunge for the extra point but was stopped. Gladstone 12, Newberry 0.

Receiving, the Indians opened up with a flurry of passes which coupled with one running play carried the ball to Gladstone's 9 from where Gooseberry went around end to score. A pass was good for the extra point and the score was Gladstone 12, Newberry 7.

Play then evened with Gladstone rolling to Newberry's 28 where the Indians held and took possession and the Indians rolling to Gladstone's 26 where the Braves stiffened and took over. The Braves then started rolling again and went to their opponent's 33 from where Kenny Lessard on a quick opener, shot through the line and scampered 33 yards for the score. LeGault passed to Moreau for the extra point and Gladstone led 19 to 7.

They Threaten Again
After some see-saw ball in the third quarter, Madden took an Indian punt at midfield and returned to the 32. LeGault went off right tackle and went the remainder of the way to pay dirt. A pass for extra point was no good and the Braves were out in front 25-7.

In the fourth quarter Newberry drove to the 10 on running plays and passes, which again baffled the Gladstone secondary, at which point Gillis, playing defensive tackle, reached up and intercepted a short over the line pass to halt the threat. Gladstone was forced to punt and Newberry drove 50 yards to the 8 from which point Gooseberry rounded right end to score. The try for point failed and the game ended a few plays later.

U-M, 69-0 Victor Over Pitt, Goes To Evanston Next

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 13 (P)—Fritz Crisler today prepared to subject his powerful Wolverines to the fires of western conference football competition after topping routs of Michigan State college and Stanford university with a 69-0 slaughter of the University of Pittsburgh Saturday.

Crisler takes his gridiron artists to Evanston, Ill., Saturday to open a six-game Big Nine schedule against Northwestern which fumbled its way into a 37-21 loss to Minnesota Saturday after edging the West Coast's highly rated UCLA the week before.

Munising Trout Derby Awards Go To Five Anglers

Munising, Mich., Oct. 13 (P)—Prize awards were announced today to five fishermen for their catches in the Munising-Lake Superior Sports Trollers association annual trout derby.

Top prize of $250 in the derby, which closed last Friday, went to Clarence A. May, Route 4, Green Bay, Wis., for a 37-pound fish caught Aug. 28 from the boat of William Wilson, Munising.

John Suehke, Route 2, Gillette, Wis., received second prize of $125 for a 36-pounder, hooked Sept. 5 from a boat owned by Jerome Van Landsehoof, Munising.

A 32-pound catch netted John Witrick, of Carney, Mich., third money of $75. He brought his prize in Aug. 7 in a boat owned by Peter Juntunen, of Shelton Bay.

Fourth prize of 100 pounds of trout was awarded to Charles Burch, (910 Jefferson Ave.) Muskegon for a 31-pound 8-ounce trout caught Aug. 7 from the boat of Sonny Kimmer, Shelter Bay.

Claude H. Parker, of (841 River Drive) Toledo, O., won fifth prize of 50 pounds of trout with his 30-pound 4-ounce specimen caught Aug. 11 from the boat of Bert Lehman, Munising.

EMERALD RESERVES WIN
Munising, Oct. 13.—The reserve football team of Marquette high school defeated a reserve team from Munising here Saturday afternoon, 12-7.

AMERICAN, NOT ENGLISH, FOOTBALL—Foreigners, who disapprove generally of rough American football, probably would find this reciprocal attempt to crack shin bones more to their liking. The action, surprisingly like that of English football, or soccer, took place as Purdue unexpectedly edged Ohio State at Lafayette, 24-20. Ends Bob Heck, left, of the Boilermakers and Dave Bonnie of the Buckeyes scrambled for a Purdue pass.

Rose Bowl Beckoning To Crisler, Waldorf

New York, Oct. 13.—(P)—With each succeeding Saturday in this dizzy football season, it looks more and more like Fritz Crisler, who turned down the coaching job at California, and Lynn Waldorf, who didn't, will be looking across the field at each other in Pasadena on New Year's day.

Fighting Trojans Edge Vikings In Last Half; Laviolette Gets Score

Playing with a fury that belied their previous losses, the St. Joseph's parochial school Trojans of Escanaba held the vaunted Norway Vikings to a 26-7 victory before a small crowd at the high school athletic field here Saturday afternoon.

Although it goes in the books as their fourth consecutive defeat, it was undoubtedly the Trojans' best showing to date in a tough schedule and rates as a "moral victory" for St. Joe inasmuch as the Viking victory margin was 19 points. Three weeks ago, the Vikings invaded Escanaba to beat the Eskymos by 20 points, 34-14.

Trailing 20-0 at the half, largely due to the scampering of Bob Devine, fullback, and Bill Marchetti, Norway halfback, the Trojans fought back to gain the upper hand in the last half. After a scoreless third period, the Trojans scored on a reverse to the left with Buddy Laviolette, who played gamely all the way, going over from the seven-yard line.

St. Joe Fights Back

Bob Ramspeck, another Trojan standout Saturday, passed to Bill Courneene, end, for the extra point. Marchetti scored on a 20-yard dash around left end late in the fourth quarter, but the try for extra point failed and the Trojans had a 7-6 edge in the last half.

Starting a drive from their 20-yard line, the Vikings marched to a touchdown at the outset with Devine plunging over from the 12-yard line. Donald Hill's placement try for the extra point was wide. St. Joe fought back to penetrate Norway territory getting as far as the 25 where the threat died on Harold Marenger's fumble.

Early in the second quarter, Devine again scored. With St. Joe starting a play from the Escanaba 38, Devine intercepted a pass on the 42 and ran the distance to a touchdown. Hill went around right end for the extra point.

The Vikings clearly held the up-

RAMS TRAMPLE LIONS, 27-13

Waterfield, Harmon Too Hot For Detroit Pro Gridders

Detroit, Oct. 13 (P)—The Detroit Lions haven't learned to stop the Los Angeles Rams' star passer, Bob Waterfield.

Detroit opened the home half of its National Football League campaign against the Rams Sunday in Briggs Stadium before 45,747 fans—second largest throng in Detroit's pro football history—and again it was Waterfield's aerial strikes that made the difference as the Rams won a 27 to 13 decision.

The Lions knew they would have to stop Waterfield to stop the highly favored Rams. They put three defenses on his favorite receiver, big Jim Benton from Arkansas, and forced the Rams to run up the bulk of their yardage on the ground, but still it was Waterfield's three touchdowns passes that told the story.

One was to Benton for 26 yards, another to Tom Harmon for 14 and the third to Howard Hickey for 27. Those three touchdowns were enough, but just to make it sure Harmon smashed through the line and raced 32 yards for an "insurance" score a minute and a half before the end of the game.

Detroit, with most of its offense built around the throwing of Quarbacks Clyde LeForce and Roy Zimmerman, got both of its touchdowns by air, too. LeForce tossing 33 yards to Bill Dudley for the second period counter, and Zimmerman hitting Pete Kmetovic on another touchdown play covering 54 yards in the third stanza.

Actually LeForce, the pro freshman from Tulsa, and Zimmerman, backfield veteran who came to Detroit from the Philadelphia Eagles last spring, matched Waterfield's passing percentage and more than doubled his yardage, but couldn't make the pitches count as heavily in the scoring column.

Waterfield connected on eight of 17 passes for a total of 110 yards and three touchdowns. Three of his pitches were intercepted. LeForce completed 13 of 21 for 153 yards and Zimmerman four out of 15 for 132.

Global Non-Pro Baseball Tour As Peace Move!

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 13 (P)—Ray Dumont and Taylor Spink, a couple of guys who never miss a bright idea that will get publicity, busted out right after the World Series with the proposal that the United Nations should sponsor a global non-professional baseball series to promote peace and understanding among nations ... among his other jobs Spink is global commissioner for Dumont's National (non-professional) Baseball Congress, so you get the hookup ... the proposal, contained in a letter to U. N. Secretary Trygve Lie, was to start the affair in Washington in 1948 and shift to another capital each year ... former American stars, it was added could teach the game in countries that didn't understand baseball ... gosh, wouldn't you like to hear Dizzy Dean or Yogi Berra explaining baseball to some foreign kids?

Commander Oscar "Swede" Hagberg, former Navy football coach, is one of five Navy submarine men to be named to the first joint Army-Navy guided Missiles School at Fort Bliss, Texas ... the Navy has about ten bits in the school and the Army a like quota ... what a football setup ... the linemen submarine and the backs go like guided missiles.

The Gus Lesnevich-Tami Mauriello tussle, which starts the winter boxing season at Madison Square Garden Oct. 31, also marks the start of the second decade of the Garden-20th Century Boxing Club hookup ... it was on Oct. 29, 1937, that Mike Jacobs staged his first Garden fight ... Henry Armstrong vs. Petey Sarron for the featherweight title ... Art Pollard, Arizona U. halfback, wears his elastic game pants so tight his teammates swear he uses a shoehorn to get them on. But oddly enough, he sometimes breaks loose ... when the U. of Oregon hired Jim Aiken from Nevada, it acquired a football coach and two good prospects. Jim, junior, a "T" quarterback at Nevada, will be eligible at Oregon next fall and 14-year-old Jerry also expects to play there eventually.

Reports of a pending Dodge-Pirate deal that would send Wally Westlake to Brooklyn for Eddie Miksis recalls that the Dodgers once had Westlake under contract ... Scout Ted McGrew signed Wally out of a tryout camp but found he wasn't ready for the classification to which he had been assigned. The salary was too high to drop him down a few notches so Westlake was released.

Phil Moonves, Yale Junior Varsity coach, describes the Eli grid squad as "A typical Ivy league squad, where you have 15 or 16 players and most of them have to go 60 minutes." Bud Jeanette, Baltimore Bullets coach, has been training his basketballers on a golf course. They don't have to play, but they do have to walk around.

LAW IS DEFIED BY SNAKE CULT

Tribute Paid To Girl, 12,
Who Survives Bite
Of Rattler

Harlan, Ky., Oct. 13. (AP)—Snake-handlers from five states met near here yesterday and staged a law-defying stand to pay tribute to 12-year-old Fay Nolan, who survived a recent snake bite on her hand without medical attention.

About 50 snake handlers, members of the Holiness Faith Healers, exhausted their repertoire before an audience estimated at 5,000 "unbelievers."

Bruce Temple, editor of the Harlan Enterprise, provided a graphic account of the proceedings. Temple said the snake-handlers dusted their lips with what they said was strychnine, prayed and sang, and administered a tongue-lashing to unbelievers.

When the assembly reached fever pitch, Temple related, about 20 snakes—rattlers and copperheads confined in boxes—were carried to a roped-off, arena-shaped decline in the Little Black Mountain, near the Virginia state line. Flaming torches also were in evidence.

The snakes were released and all the cultists handled them at one time or another, Temple said. Little Fay Nolan herself took a rattler and allowed the snake to wind about her neck as she chanted, "God Be Pleased."

Leaf's Play Hockey All-Stars Tonight

Toronto, Oct. 13. (AP)—The realization of many a hockey fan's dream will come to pass tonight when a National Hockey League All-Star team tangles with the Stanley cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs in Maple Leaf Gardens.

For many years, fans throughout the circuit wondered how a select group of stars would fare against another team and tonight upwards of 15,000 fans will be on hand to witness the circuit's first official "dream game."

CHICAGO PRICES

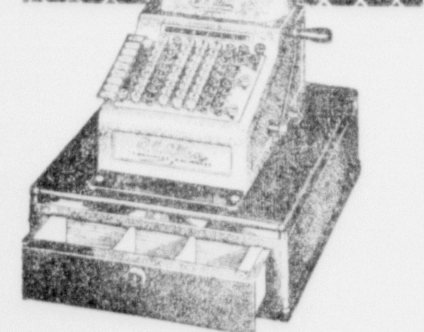

CHICAGO POTATOES
Chicago, Oct. 13. (AP)—(USDA)—Potatoes: Total U. S. shipments Friday 960, Saturday 1,015, and Sunday 19; supplies fairly liberal; demand slow; market dull with unsettled feeling prevailing. Victor Hallberg Claimed by Death

The body of Victor Hallberg, about 59, a woods worker, today is at Anderson's funeral home while an effort is being made to contact relatives believed to be living in Missouri. Hallberg died during the weekend while staying with friends near Campbell's Spur in Maple Ridge township.

Deputy Sheriff Emil Johnson and Coroner Kevill Murphy reported that Hallberg had been living with Eino Roine near Rock and had gone to the home of neighbors to spend the night. Death was believed to have been caused by a heart ailment.

RUSSIA TO VOTE FOR PARTITION

Soviet U. N. Delegation
Ready To Support
Holy Land Split

Lake Success, Oct. 13. (AP)—A leading non-Russian delegate in the Soviet bloc and an Arab spokesman said today that Russia was ready to support the proposed partition of Palestine into separate Jewish and Arab countries.

A United Nations secretariat source said, meanwhile, that Yugoslavia and Britain had scratched themselves from the speakers' list for today in the 57-member Palestine committee of the United Nations assembly.

This would place the Russian policy statement first for delivery in the Palestine committee when it convenes at 3 p. m. (EST).

The Slav delegate, who declined to be quoted by name, said his information on the Russian position had come from "the highest authoritative level."

Soviet support of partition would come as a blow to the Arab countries who had counted on Soviet backing and were making final plans for a new round of speeches attacking the U. S. position.

The Jewish agency for Palestine had given its endorsement to the partition plan.

SOVIET BREAK WITH AMERICA NOT EXPECTED

over a four year period. 2. France is due to run out of dollars about mid-week and thereupon to cease all purchases in the United States of coal, fats, and fuel—supplies essential to the political stability as well as the economic well being of France.

American officials searched desperately over the weekend for some means to minimize the effect. They were worried not only about the disruption of the French economy but also about the potential political result. France is holding municipal elections next Sunday and the Communists are making propaganda capital out of negotiations with Russia for wheat.

3. The United States and Britain are expected to reach substantial agreement before next weekend on plans for increasing American dollar expenditures in western Germany, possibly by $200,000,000 to $300,000,000, to make up a deficit in occupation costs due to Britain's shortage of dollars.

KIWANIS HEARS FISH BIOLOGIST

Dexter Reynolds Talks
At Noon Meeting
Of Club

The fine walleye fishing that sport fishermen have enjoyed along Green bay the past year may be attributable to plantings made by the Michigan conservation department in 1942, Dexter Reynolds, state biologist, said in an interesting talk to the Kiwanis club this noon.

It takes about four or five years for walleye fish plantings to show up in good catches, Reynolds said. He added that there is a good chance that this good fishing will continue for the Green bay shoreline seems to have proper conditions for spawning.

Reynolds, who is a member of the field staff of the Bureau of Fisheries Research, Lansing, has charge of nine counties in the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula. This area has 4600 lakes and 198 streams.

Answering the question of what makes good fishing, Reynolds said that cool water, oxygen and vegetation are important factors.

"Plant life makes fish life," Reynolds said.

In his survey work, Reynolds said he has found lakes with many stunted fish, a condition due to the inadequacy of plant life or food. In some lakes, the wrong species of fish have been planted in the past. Such bodies of water are being "poisoned" and will be restocked with the proper kind of fish, he added.

Aged Carney Farmer Peter Macco, Dies

Peter Macco, 64, resident farmer of Carney since 1909, died Sunday night at 8:30 in St. Joseph hospital in Menominee following serious illness which developed Saturday from a diabetic condition of the last five years.

Mr. Macco was born Jan. 13, 1883 in Lincoln, Wis., and came to Carney at an early age. He was a member of St. Bruno church in Nadeau.

He is survived by his wife and six children, Edward Daggett, Mrs. Frank Lundquist, Carney; William, Nadeau; Francis, Carney; Mrs. William Charles, Powers, and Richard at home. Also two brothers, three sisters and 14 grandchildren.

The body will be removed to the family home in Carney Tuesday afternoon at four and funeral services will be held in St. Bruno church Thursday morning at nine o'clock.

Burial will be made in Nadeau cemetery. Allo Funeral home is in charge.

OWNER FOUND DEAD

Detroit (AP)—Prospective buyers inspecting a Redford township home Saturday found the body of the owner, 50-year-old Harold D. Liley, in the basement. A shotgun lay beside him. State police said Liley apparently shot himself. His wife died two months ago.

FARM DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT 15-20 MILLION

'eye' with brilliant sunshine beating down on us.

"The contrast was unbelievable. The sky was deep blue but it and the sea 500 feet below us, was a peaceful green, absolutely calm, contrasting with the white fury of a few minutes before."

The storm center passed just north of Miami, weather bureau observers said. This city had 5.01 inches of rain, 1.34 inches in 10 minutes for the heaviest fall ever recorded here in such a short time.

Two Marine Corps veterans who had volunteered as American Red Cross ambulance men were killed when the vehicle in which they were riding to evacuate flood victims rammed a utility pole.

Three feet of water sloshed through the business district of Fort Lauderdale, halting traffic. Davie, four miles from Fort Lauderdale, was flooded to the rooftops in some instances and five feet or more in some parts of the town.

City Manager H. A. Philpott, of Fort Lauderdale, said the rain was the worst in his 22 years in that city and "something that comes once in 30 years."

A series of small tornadoes accompanied the storm. Two buildings in Miami were wrecked, some roofs torn off and trees and scrubby damaged. No injuries were reported.

For a time, Miami's international airport, one of the busiest in the nation, was covered with water and plane service was interrupted. Schedules were resumed Sunday.

A Pan American Airways DC-4, enroute from Havana to Miami with 36 passengers and four crew members aboard, planned to follow the storm in but instead passed close to the center of it and fought winds, rain and hail for two hours before flying on to Nassau for a landing. None of the passengers was injured but seven fainted from fright.

PRICES ON NEW CARS GOING UP

President Of GM Says
Increase Will Come
With 1948 Models

Detroit, Oct. 13. (AP)—Automobile prices are due to go up again with introduction of 1948 models, C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors Corp., predicts.

"Even if there is no increase in wages," Wilson said Saturday, "certain engineering changes and cost of materials will make an increase necessary."

The GM president reiterated his two-year-old formula for "returning the nation to normalcy" through an increase in the work week.

Wilson proposed extending the standard work week to 45 hours before making overtime payments in order to increase production.

He also recommended that pension payments be kept to a minimum lest persons who at the age of 60 or 65 still have a good day's work in them be tempted to "stop work and take things easy if the pension is too attractive."

Pensions should be under the supervision of the government, Wilson said, so that a worker could change jobs without losing his pension rights.

Car Collides With Deer Near Cadillac; Woman Is Injured

Cadillac, Oct. 13. (AP)—Mrs. Adrian Kilbourn, 52, of (1724 Bry's Drive) Grosse Pointe Woods, is in Mercy hospital here with a fractured collar bone, incurred when an automobile driven by her husband overturned after colliding with a deer.

State police said the deer darted from the roadside directly into the path of the auto five miles west of here on Highway M-55. Mr. Kilbourn was uninjured.

Suspect Accused Of Strangling Girl Is Declared Sane

Grand Rapids, Oct. 13. (AP)—A sanity commission ruled today in a report filed in Superior court that Dale Beauchamp, 26, accused in the strangulation death of Mrs. Betty Ann Roberts, 21, is sane. Beauchamp, who signed a statement confessing to police that he strangled the girl a few hours after meeting her in a bar Sept. 17, pleaded innocent to murder charges when arraigned Sept. 30 before Superior Judge Thaddeus E. Taylor.

STUNT FLIER KILLED
Litchfield, Mich., Oct. 13. (AP)—Orville M. Florine, 24, stunt flier from Angola, Ind., was killed yesterday when his plane crashed at Lamm's Airport near here. Florine was doing acrobatics when his plane went into a dive and plunged to the ground.

BATH KILLS BABY
Grand Rapids, Oct. 13. (AP)—Two-year-old Joel Thomas Pearson died Sunday of burns incurred Saturday night when he tumbled into a tub of scalding water which his mother, Mrs. Kenneth Pearson, had prepared for his bath.
